25 January 2016

Mr. and Mrs. Richard and Linda Whitney
5735 North Harding Drive
Paradise Valley, Arizona 85253

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Whitney:

Enclosed you will find the appraisal report on one (1) work of art as described in this report. The appraisal is intended for the function of a charitable donation to the City of Glendale, Public Art Program, 5959 West Brown Street, Glendale, Arizona.

I was advised that you are the 100-percent owners of the artwork. It is applicable to identify any ownership rights or interests in the property to be valued or any known ownership restrictions, encumbrances, leases, covenants, contracts, declarations, special assessments, ordinances, or other items of a similar nature, and I was advised that you are the 100-percent owners of the property.

I have no present or prospective interest in the property that is the subject of this report, and I have no personal interest or bias with respect to the parties involved.

I was further advised that the intended users of this appraisal report are you and your delegated representatives.

I inspected and photographed the artwork on 04 January 2016 at your home at 5735 North Harding Drive, Paradise Valley, Arizona.

I have researched and analyzed the artist's market and produced this report as of 25 January 2016. I have included the Fair Market Value, that is "the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or to sell and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts. If the contribution is made in a property that of a type which the taxpayer sells in the course of his business, the fair market value is the price which the taxpayer would have received if he had sold the contributed property in the usual market in which he commonly sells, at the time and place of the contribution, and, in the case of a contribution of goods in quantity, the quantity contributed. The usual market of a manufacturer or other producer consists of the wholesalers or other distributors to or through whom he customarily sells, but if he sells only at retail the usual market consists of his retail customers. If the donor makes a charitable contribution of property, such as stock in trade, at a time when he could not reasonably have expected to realize its usual selling price but is the amount for which the quantity of property contributed would have been sold by the donor at the time of its contribution." The fair market value of the artwork is in the total of $18,000.00 (eighteen thousand dollars) as of the effective date of valuation, 31 December 2015.

I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the statements of fact contained in the appraisal are true and correct and that the report has been prepared in accordance with the 2016-2017 Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice of The Appraisal Foundation and the Principles of Appraisal Practice and the Code of Ethics of the American Society of Appraisers.

Furthermore, my analysis, opinions and conclusions were developed and this report has been prepared in conformity with the applicable Internal Revenue Service Guidelines.

As required under § 1.170A-13(c)(5)(I), I understand that "a substantial or gross valuation misstatement resulting from an appraisal of the value of property that the appraiser knows, or reasonably should have known, would be used in connection with a return or claim for refund, may subject the appraiser to a civil penalty under § 6695A."

I am a qualified appraiser, as defined as "an individual who (1) has earned an appraisal designation from a recognized professional appraiser organization or has otherwise met minimum education and experience requirements set forth in regulations proscribed by the Secretary; (2) regularly performs appraisals for which the individual receives compensation; and (3) meets such other requirements as may be prescribed by the Secretary in regulations or other guidance. (Section 170(f)(1)(E)(ii) of the Internal Revenue Service Code.

I have retained a copy of this report and the original notes from which it was prepared. These records are confidential; I will not permit access to them by anyone without your specific written authorization. The appraisal report and all related work files remain the property of the appraiser and is retained for the appropriate time thereafter that such records are required to be maintained by USPAP and consistent with the ASA Code of Ethics. After this required period of record retention, all such information will be destroyed in a manner consistent with providing you confidentiality.

The completion of this appraisal report concludes the work as originally agreed. Should you desire additional work, a new agreement and additional fees will be required.

This report consists of 18 pages. Possession of this report or any copy does not carry with it the right of publication, nor may the same be used for any function by anyone but the above named individuals without the previous written consent of the appraiser, and in any event, only in its entirety and with the proper qualifications. No change of any item in the appraisal report shall be made by anyone other than the appraiser, and the appraiser shall have no responsibility for any unauthorized change.

APPROACHES TO VALUE

There are three Approaches to Value for appraising personal property; all approaches were considered in preparing this appraisal.

The Cost Approach to Value

A procedure to estimate the current costs to reproduce or create a personal property with another of comparable use and marketability.

This approach to value was considered and not used because the subject property cannot be reproduced.

The Income Approach to Value

A procedure to conclude an opinion of present value by calculating the anticipated monetary benefits (such as stream of income) for an income-producing property.

This approach to value was considered and not used because the subject property is not income generating.

The Sales Comparison Approach to Value

A procedure to conclude an opinion of value for a property by comparing it with similar properties that have been sold or are for sale in the relevant marketplace by making adjustments to prices based on marketplace conditions and the properties' characteristics of value.

The Sales Comparison Approach is used because there is a sufficient number of properties in the relevant marketplace comparable to the subject properties on which to base a credible value conclusion.

The aforementioned definitions are as stated in The Appraisal of Personal Property Principles, Theories and Practice Methods for the Professional Appraiser published by the American Society of Appraisers.

Market Analysis

Michael Anderson was born in California in 1945 and grew up in Texas and Nebraska. After moving to Arizona in 1964, he studied fine arts at Phoenix College and Arizona State University. Anderson entered a carpenter's apprenticeship program and built houses and apartment complexes before becoming a professional sculptor in the early 1970s. He has converted a warehouse in downtown Phoenix to use as his studio. Anderson's sculpture can be seen locally at Sky Harbor International Airport, Biltmore Office Park, Scottsdale Center for the Arts, the American Express headquarters and the Tucson Museum of Art. His work also is found in public and private collections across the United States, as well as Canada, Mexico, Switzerland, Australia, the United Arab Emirates and Zaire.

To conclude the fair market value of this artwork, I began by researching the artist's markets to find the most common market where one of his works would sell. Because the majority of Anderson's sculptures are large scale, and oftentimes public artworks, there are few auction sales for comparable properties. Bonhams San Francisco sold one of Anderson's steel sculptures in May 2011 for $5,124.00. This untitled piece was created the same year as the Whitney sculpture, 1976, and it measures 93" height X 39" width X 29" depth. Although it is a large sculpture, it is not as deep as the Whitney property, and the symmetry of the Whitney sculpture lends a graceful elegance to the piece. Therefore, I rank the Whitney property higher than the property sold at Bonhams. An additional factor in this sale is the fact that it took place in 2011 when the art market was much weaker than it was in December 2015.

Although Anderson has been working as a sculptor for over thirty years, there is only one sculpture sold at auction that is comparable to the Whitney untitled piece. A willing and knowledgeable buyer would most likely acquire one of the artist's sculptures directly from Anderson or at a gallery such as the Larsen Gallery in Scottsdale, Arizona. The Larsen Gallery currently offers four sculptures by Anderson, and two are larger in scale. Conception is steel and measures 78" height X 38" width X 16" depth. It is offered for $17,000.00. Weight Piece #1 also is steel and measures 69" height X 12" width X 12" depth. It is offered for $11,000.00. Both properties share characteristics of value such as medium and style with the Whitney sculpture, but, despite their large size, they are still smaller than the Whitney piece and are not as complex as the subject sculpture.

I also consulted directly with the artist about the untitled piece, and he advised me that he would sell it for approximately $20,000.00. I took this information into consideration, along with the asking prices at the Larsen Gallery, and I made adjustments, including a standard collector discount, and concluded the fair market value to be $18,000.00.
